

Captains and Teams for the Santa Fe Renaissance Fair September 18 and 19, 2010

Would you like to:

- Share an exciting, fun and free weekend event with your family and friends.
- Create memories and photos that you'll talk about all year.
- Compete for awards.
- Support two outstanding local non-profit organizations.

If so, you should create a team to run a game, activity or service at the next Santa Fe Renaissance Fair!

What does a team do?

A team is a group of roughly 4 to 6 people who work together to run a game, activity or service throughout the weekend. During the fair they take turns working so the other team members have a chance to enjoy the fair. No need to speak funny, wear a weird costume or become a character (unless you want too...).

What does a Game Captain do?

A game captain forms a team from family and friends, schedules their time and coordinates with the fair organizers.

Rewards

- Free and early admission to the fair for you and your team
- Free T-Shirt for team Captains and discounts for team members
- A chance to compete for team awards
- A feeling of accomplishment for supporting two local non-profits and contributing your time and energy to a wonderful family event
- It will definitely be one of the highlights of your year.

Awards presented for:

- Best Team Costumes
- Most Enthusiastic Team
- Most Money Raised
- Most Significant Effort
- Most Entertaining Team

Don't want to build a team? Sign up to volunteer and we'll assign you to an existing team.
